

Darkstar

I Blame Coco

I Packed my suitcase cause I'm going far away
I have a picture of your face
I packed my suitcase for my special holiday
And in it I put your heart
And in it I put your heart

So bury me
Dismiss me from me your memory
And cover my body in debary
And from me grows this lovers tree
Theres nothing here to see

Forgive me dark star
'Cause I love you
I think I took it too far
'Cause I love you

I got my alter ego personality
I only got myself to blame
I took my other side and tried to change its face
And for you I tried to change
And for you I had to change

So bury me
Dismiss me from me your memory
And cover my body in debary
And from me grows this lovers tree
Theres nothing more to see

Forgive me dark star
'Cause I love you
I think I took it too far
'Cause I love you

We grow to fast
Now slow the pace
Now I want nothing but your face
And in this game you win the race
I loose out underground
And this cold world you are the one
You are the lightening of my storm
I've lost my dreams in which you won't come true

Forgive me dark star
'Cause I love you
I think I took it too far
'Cause I love you

I said
Forgive me dark star
'Cause I love you
I think I took it too far
'Cause I love you

In time you'll love me back but time will be too late
I've packed a pistol just incase
My constant smiles at me and tells me it's okay

So fuck the distance lets embrace.
