

Critical Moment

I Declare War

Create a void for yourself
Locking everyone out
Shut yourself out the world
Becoming numb from within
Slow your thinking down
Don't let your mind race
It only makes things worse

Your long life has led up to this critical moment
Your long life has led up to this critical moment
Think fucking hard
'Cause this could be the last time you could try to turn it all around
Breathe it in
Bask in your surroundings
You can almost feel the earth spinning
All washed up
Worn to the bone
Filled with all these fears and insecurities

Leave me alone

Insecurities are filling in my head
I feel like they are dragging me down
It's a sickness rotting in my gut
For fuck's sake just leave me alone
Your long life has led up to this critical moment
Your long life has led up to this critical moment
Breathe it in
You can almost feel the numb you became
Slow your mind
Soon you will be at peace in your mind
The end is drawing near Leave all this pain
Turn for eternal sleep
Bask in your surroundings (surroundings)

Dirt beneath between you and the dead
Nothing ever stops this

Your long life has led up to this critical moment
Your long life has led up to this critical moment
Your long life has led up to this critical moment
Your long life has led up to this critical moment
