

New Invention

I Dont Know How But They Found Me

You've got the devil on your shoulder
You better shut your mouth just like I told you
You've been controlling me through fiction
It's obvious
I've got to break you like a bad addiction

Now I can't say no, I'm losing control
I'm having
Bad dreams
And nothing you can do will keep the
Bad things
Away from me until I fall asleep
Bad dreams
Despite your good intentions
That girl is like an architect
And I am just the new invention
I am just the new invention
I am just the new invention

You've got to choose between your faces
Feels like you're running out of holy places
And now the room is getting quiet
Oh, what a shame
Nobody taught you how to read and riot

Bless my soul, I'm losing control
I'm having
Bad dreams
And nothing you can do will keep the
Bad things
Away from me until I fall asleep
Bad dreams
Despite your good intentions
That girl is like an architect
And I am just the new invention
I am just the new invention
I am just the new invention

It's a miracle I'm standing
You're dragging me back into having
I'm having
Bad dreams
And nothing you can do will keep the
Bad things
Away from me until I fall asleep
Bad dreams

Despite your good intentions
That girl is like an architect
And I am just the new invention
I am just the new invention
I am just the new invention
I can't sleep
I am just the new invention
I can't sleep
I am just the new invention
