

Everybody wants to be saved by someone
Someone who will come and solve all their problems
No one wants to crash and burn and learn their lesson
Just tell them where to put the blame and don't ask questions

Oh, what will you become?

Hero find your way
Never mind what they all say
It's your life, it's your day
Breathe and be okay
Tell them help is on the way
Someone's always waiting to be saved

Politics and lunatics and happy endings
All they have in common is they're all pretending
Hero for today and then you're gone tomorrow
In no time they find someone else to follow

Oh, what will you become?

Hero find your way
Never mind what they all say
It's your life, it's your day
Breathe and be okay
Tell them help is on the way
Someone's always waiting to be saved

Hero find your way
Never mind what they all say
It's your life, it's your day
Breathe and be okay
Tell them help is on the way

Hero don't delay
Save the world and save the day
Smile hard, save face

Heroes don't complain
So never let them see your pain
Someone's always waiting to be saved
