

Jimmy And Sally

I Fight Dragons

Sally play guitar down on the local bars
She dream to making it big
But Sally never got that far
Sally write songs that nobody hear
But somehow that's ok
All you need to know so far is Sally play the guitar

Jimmy got good grades now he works on Max on Saturdays
He always follow the rules
But it turns up that doesn't pay
Jimmy doesn't know what he's gonna do
But he knows he can't go on this way
And thou they may not kill the way
Jimmy got good grades

Will you try to remember or forget?
What if living just hasn't happen yet
You can't wait to forever for a sign
What if living is just a state of mind?
Well I don't wanna be left behind

In the lighting night Sally left the stage
And she left it so unknown
She bite her own fight
She's not that kind of girl that's afraid to be alone
Cuz Sally when she plays she plays
And no one else is on the stage
Jimmy hides out at the top of the stairs in his room at night
He has adventures when there's nobody there he rich by candle lights
And when the sun begin to rise Jimmy brakes and open his eyes

Will you try to remember or forget?
What if living just hasn't happen yet
You can't wait to forever for a sign
What if living is just a state of mind?
Well I don't wanna be left behind

Sally leaves away
Sally saves the day
Sally goes down swinging

Jimmy planes and skit
Jimmy hope and dream
Jimmy looks before leaping
Sally and Jimmy don't know
But one day they gonna make each other

They always learning is hard way
Build it and brake it down
Burn it and then start again
But they gonna learn someday, I bet

Will you try to remember or forget?
What if living just hasn't happen yet
You can't wait to forever for a sign
What if living is just a state of mind?

Will you try to remember or forget?
What if living just hasn't happen yet
I can't wait to forever for a sign
But it turns that living is just a state of mind?
Well I don't wanna be left behind
I'm not gonna be left
Jimmy and Sally will find it finely
As people left in pieces no one, no one is gonna be left behind
