

One and Done

I Fight Dragons

Yesterday has come and gone, while tomorrow stretches onward
All we are is here and now. from afar I watch the sun burn high
I told myself I'd give it one more try
Just to see how far I'd chase this why I never can find

One smile, one photograph
Denial, and there's nothing left to say
I know I'm in my own way
But I'm one and done today

All I am is all I am. Trapped within my definition
Free to fight the wars against demons of my own creation

No, I told myself I'd give it one more go
Just to see how far I'd take this show before going home

One smile, one photograph
I know I'm in my own way
But I'm one and done today

One smile, one photograph
I know I'm in my own way
But I'm one and done today
