

Into Hell

I Prevail

Your tired eyes like open wounds
You see right through me
With every lie and bitter truth
You see right through me

So come and pull me closer
Take me even lower
We can find the calm before the storm
Now Hell is freezing over
No peace of mind, no closure
We can find the calm before the storm

You can drag me through the fire
Throw me into the well
You're the closest thing to Heaven
I'd follow you into Hell
I'd follow you into Hell

Your emerald eyes ignite the room
They're all-consuming
Just let me burn if I'm with you
Come fall into me

So come and pull me closer
Take me even lower
Can we find our time before it's gone?
Now Hell is freezing over
No peace of mind, no closure
Can we find our time before it's gone?

You can drag me through the fire
Throw me into the well
You're the closest thing to Heaven
I'd follow you into Hell
I'd follow you into Hell

If it meant
I had to crawl through broken glass just to hold your hand
In the end
I'd give up everything just to burn with you

Drag me through the fire
Throw me into the well
You're the closest thing to Heaven
I'd follow you into Hell
I'd follow you into Hell

(Your tired eyes like open wounds)
(You see right through me)
I'd follow you into Hell
(With every lie and bitter truth)
(You see right through me)
I'd follow you into Hell
