Walk inside the bank, counting Benjamin Franklin
Every single morning, take a knee and then thank him
Cover up my nose 'cause the weed's smoke stanky
Guarantee she know every song that I'm

Yeah baby, I see you over there, sundress
I don't know who fine, you or your mama though
But ay, I could fuck with either one of y'all

Walk inside the bank, counting Benjamin Franklin
Every single morning, take a knee and then thank him
Cover up my nose 'cause the weed's smoke stanky
Guarantee she know every song that I'm singing
Getting on my nerves, telling me that I'm changing
Foreign car swerve, 580, lane changing
On my own wave, I don't owe no explanation
Never tell a soul all my private inform

Plotting all my moves 'cause this shit be getting dangerous
Marble on the floors, and the fixtures all stainless

Hit the boulevard, with my guys
She's movie star, in my eyes

Guarantee she know every song that I'm singing
Getting on my nerves, telling me that I'm changing
