

EMPTY PROMISES

iann dior

You took your time
If I'd known you were leaving and leaving me bleeding, I wouldn't have wasted my time
Taking advantage of everything I ever gave you, I guess I was blind
Guess I was stupid, gave you trust and you misused it
Gave you my heart and you ruined it, yeah

Did I ask too late? Did the feeling fade?
'Cause the pills just hit, and my head can't take it
Walk away, if you walk away, give me Novocaine

Empty promises
I'm guessing that I never really mattered
Forever came so quick
I'm guessing that you found somebody better
I'm trying to make it obvious, but you seem so oblivious
I tried to talk you down but you just walked away
Empty promises
I'm guessing they don't ever really matter

What I can't get back
Is the time that I wasted, the trauma you gave me, you make me feel so bad
Now I get sick to the sound of your voice, and I hate that it feels like that Now all I wanna know is how you wanna go and get so close so fast
Can you tell me that?

Empty promises
I'm guessing that I never really mattered
Forever came so quick
I'm guessing that you found somebody better
I'm trying to make it obvious, but you seem so oblivious
I tried to talk you down but you just walked away
Empty promises
I'm guessing they don't ever really matter

Did I ask too late? Did the feeling fade?
'Cause the pills just hit, and my head can't take it
Walk away, if you walk away, give me Novocaine

Empty promises
I'm guessing they don't ever really matter

I'm guessing that you found somebody better
I'm trying to make it obvious, but you seem so oblivious
I tried to talk you down but you just walked away
Empty promises
I'm guessing they don't ever really matter

(I'm guessing they don't ever really matter)
