Dystopia

Enter the nightmare This future does implode A techno city-state A prison, nothing more Rounded up like cattle You're forced into the trains Nothing that you've ever known Will bring you so much pain

If you try to resist me You'll find me inhumane But if you just submit You'll live your life a slave You'll love your servitude We'll medicate your pain With our technology We'll always keep you safe

Micro-chipped like dogs Their thoughts are not their own All that's left of human kind Is now in their control Planned out through centuries Patient and contrived Played on man's naiveté Gullible and blind

If you try to resist me You'll find me inhumane But if you just submit You'll live your life a slave You'll love your servitude We'll medicate your pain With our technology We'll always keep you safe

The nightmare unfolds before my eyes I will resist 'til end of time A spirit born free Has to break these chains We're lost, we must find our way We'll find our way!

They say that you're a danger To everything that's pure There are too many of you They're offering the cure Swift extermination If you refuse the game Arrested development Your vaccinated fate

If you try to resist me You'll find me inhumane But if you just submit You'll live your life a slave You'll love your servitude Iced Earth

We'll medicate your pain With our technology We'll always keep you safe

The nightmare unfolds before my eyes I will resist 'til end of time A spirit born free Has to break these chains We're lost, we must find our way We'll find our way!
