The Coming Curse

Iced Earth

I walk the Earth just as they planned Baptized in fire for my ancient land The coming curse, your anti-Christ, I am the Watcher's eye I vindicate and cleanse the Earth of all mankind

For many years, I've walked among you Through the folds of time and space Kingdoms fall, leaders die, as I see fit I devour souls of those that pose a threat

I walk the Earth another day The wicked one that comes this way Savior to my own, devil to some Mankind falls, something wicked comes

I bide my time planning your fate With bated breath, The Elder wait The coming curse, your anti-Christ, I am the Watcher's eye For your crimes on our kind you all will die

I walk the Earth another day The wicked one that comes this way Savior to my own, devil to some Mankind falls, something wicked comes

Forged in the sacred flames On the sixth day Of the sixth month In the sixth hour

I am your anti-Christ, I will destroy mankind Born of the beast and flames I will devour, I will divide

Hellfire rages in my eyes Blood will fall like rain this night The coming curse, the anti-Christ, I am the Watcher's eye I vindicate and cleanse the Earth of all mankind

I walk the Earth another day The wicked one that comes this way Savior to my own, devil to some Mankind falls, something wicked comes
