The Phantom Opera Ghost

Iced Earth

I feel you, from beyond the walls you speak to me
Christine my love Paris now will worship you
You will star soon I'll kill to make it sure for you
Oh my love, won't you please show yourself to me
Soon I'll take you in my kingdom you're the queen.
It's dark and peaceful but my face you'll never see, no

Oh Christine on this eve I will come for you
Erik my love, I've waited all my life for you
Please just take me I need to be with you
Take my hand, through the catacombs my lair awaits
Caverns, mazes, the underworld and the blackest lake.
Enticing danger, your passion feeds me I'm your slave

Now I've bathed in fear. I will not leave here Breathe deep the darkness. Breathe deep the madness I'm so cold inside. Mental suicide Breathe deep the darkness. Breathe deep the sadness

Oh Christine don't you know it's all for you Carlotta's head and the other death's I planned. All for you, to have your night in the spotlight. From now on forevermore you will only sing for me

So you are, you are the legend. The Phantom Opera Ghost I am what man has made me. With his hate and cruel ways Why are you?
Why am I?
The Phantom Opera Ghost I have to see
You'll never see
What's behind the mask

I'm so torn between love, death, life, and hate
Don't you doubt me, what we have is just our fate.
I now own you from this day forth; you'll be my slave
Oh Dear God for this life I've lost the will
No this can't be I'd rather you die than spoil my dream.
Myself I'll kill if I can't have you no one will
