

At night it's only you are in control
And all of us know
It's easy to forget that
To console you've gotta think like an old soul

Supernatural, it's inconceivable
How civilisations they come and go
Leaving only examples
Of what not to follow

Young but only for a moment in time
Moment in time
And you are younger, older
Frozen in time
Frozen in time

Tale a closer look and you're not in control
And all of us know
Think of the places you could have lived
Where happiness wasn't borrowed
Metaphysical yet you make it seem possible
A kaleidoscope of old souls
All waiting for someone
For some new chain to follow

Young but only for a moment in time
Moment in time
And you are younger, older
Frozen in time
Frozen in time
And you are older now but you're frozen in time
Frozen in time
Young but only for a moment in time
Moment in time
