

Downfall

If I Were You

Brace for the downfall

The pain, the misery
Will it ever fade?
This bitterness will not get the best of me
Won't get the best of me

It leaves my stomach in knots
But it won't drag me down

This time around I will escape this hell
(Escape this hell)
This time around I will escape this hell

I need to bury it, bury it
Six feet under, leave regret behind me
Broken soul, a long way home
I won't lose hope
Bury it, bury it
Six feet under, leave regret behind me
Broken soul, a long way home
I won't, I won't lose hope
I won't, I won't lose hope
I won't, I won't lose hope
Hope

I've been down this road too many times before
Feeling useless, so hard to ignore

But I swear it won't drag me down
Learn to control it this time around

I need to bury it, bury it
Six feet under, leave regret behind me
Broken soul, a long way home
I won't lose hope
Bury it, bury it
Six feet under, leave regret behind me
Broken soul, a long way home
I won't, I won't lose hope
I won't lose hope
I need to bury it, bury it
Six feet under, leave regret behind me
Broken soul, a long way home
I won't, I won't lose hope

Six feet under
It's hard to ignore
Been down this road too many times before

Brace for the downfall
Feeling so useless, it's hard to ignore
I've been down this lonely road too many time before
So useless
