Glow in the Dark

Iggy Pop

If we want silver and gold and diamonds and pearls
Then everyone must play their part in this world
Servants will serve and kings will rule
Pretend we don't know but I bet that you do
Hypocrites point and call it corrupt
Ubiquitous chatrooms chatting about us
And I am not exempt from the whitest of noise

If I forfeit, mark me isolated
So turn off the lights, watch me glow in the dark
Take away the rug, find me levitating
Bet you'll think that I do it alone
To explain all this means further explaining Positive thoughts make a brighter you
Your sense of community is going to kill you
