

You Lie

Ignite

These are the things in my life
That have held me down
A million times I wonder how this came about
Try to control every one
And everything you see
It's the price that I had to pay

The change begins tonight
The fire that burns inside
You can run and hide and lie to yourself
All I ask of you is get away

So who are you this time?
You lie!
I see it in your face
You lie!
You never know your place

You never hear what I say
You never listen to me
What do you care? You'll never be my destiny
A million times we've fallen down
This broken road
Now things will have to change

About face begins tonight
This fire that burns inside
You can run and hide and lie to yourself
I've had enough of you so get away

So who are you this time?
You lie!
I see it in your face
You lie!
You never know your place

You run, hide, lie to yourself
You run, hide, lie to yourself
You run, hide
So who are you this time?
