

Haunted by Rock & Roll

Ignitor

I don't care what the preacher say
I crank it up to 11 on the 13th day
This sinking feeling it won't go away
It's a debt of evil you can never repay

I'm cursed by metal and I'm
Haunted by rock and roll
A true believer
And the devil has taken control

The dogs howling in the dark of night
They howl for death before daylight
The hour of the wolf before the dawn
A dead clock chimes and now you're gone

A robin flies into the room
Someone you love will be dead soon
Cross my heart and hope to die
Cut your throat if I tell a lie

I'm cursed by metal and I'm
Haunted by rock and roll
A true believer
And the devil has taken control
To stop the beast and burn in your brain
The sounds of hell shall destroy thy name
I'm cursed by metal and I'm
Haunted by rock and roll

In the hour when the sleep is deep
And the nightmares are most real
The ghosts and the demons creeping
And your heart is full of fear
Cover the mirrors and cover your eyes
Three lights on a match is never wise
Cross your fingers as the fears arise
The worst is coming true, for you

I'm cursed by metal and I'm
Haunted by rock and roll
A soul eater
And the devil has taken control
To stop the beast and burn your brains
The sounds of hell shall destroy thy name
I'm cursed by metal and I'm
Haunted by rock and roll
