Smoke is rising
It rises into the sky
I see dark craters
Where the cities used to lie

See them crawling out of the ashes
The womb of insanity
Emerging a novel monster
Stripped of humanity

Raiders from the void
Invaders come to destroy

Marauders
Out riding to prey on the weak
Destroyers
Killing all of what they will not keep

Death rattling into the darkness
Surrounding a burning wreck
The vultures are closing in tighter
Like a noose around your neck

Raiders from the void
Invaders come to destroy

Our father's must have
Hated sunlight
Because they blacked out the sky
Children were not
Supposed to suffer
We were only supposed to die

Eclipse of a prosperous future
Living in the dirt and the grime
The will to sustain this torture
Elected generals to commit the crimes

Great visions seemingly
Go unfulfilled
Decisions
Learning to kill or be killed

Mutually assured destruction
The strategy that they contrived
The sum of our fathers actions
Living nightmare to survive

Raiders from the void
We are
Invaders come to destroy
