

The Kaiser

Ignitor

Give me a woman
That loves the brew
And I'll conquer the world
Give me an army that looks like you
And I'll conquer the world
Be strong in what you believe
But Know that hate is the enemy
Open your eyes and conquer the world

Love will take you higher
So sayeth the Kaiser
Love will take you higher
So sayeth the Kaiser
The hammer of truth
For the crowns of the damned
Banner of youth
And a love for the land
Cast off the lie and conquer the world

Bear yourself as Attila
And you'll conquer the world
Stand up for each other
And you'll conquer the world
Open your mind and look inside
Find the power that tries to hide
Power that's true and justified
Conquer the world

Love will take you higher
So sayeth the Kaiser
Love will take you higher
So sayeth the Kaiser
Iron may crack where steel might bend
What devils lack
The true strength of men
Open arms until the end
Now conquer the world

You may not be born of kings
But you'll conquer the world
You may not own precious things
But you'll conquer the world
You're born with all you need
A heart to love and a mind to feed
Choosing your call and your creed
Now conquer the world

Love will take you higher
So sayeth the Kaiser
Love will take you higher
So sayeth the Kaiser
The hammer of truth for the crowns of the damned
The banner of youth
Stand in the sun and conquer the world
