

All Time Low

Iko

Take another picture
Take another one of me with arms raised
Get a better window
Get a better place where I can still see your final face

I'm breathing you in
I'm breathing you in
But you are leaving
You're leaving this world
I'm breathing you in
I'm breathing you in
But you sleep above the solar system

Close the door behind you
Just like the way you used to close your heart
And there's no point in crying
With your fingertips on glass
We watch the fireworks start

I'm breathing you in
I'm breathing you in
But you are leaving
You're leaving this world
I'm breathing you in
I'm breathing you in
But you sleep above the solar system
And I can't blame you
No, I can't blame you
Cause if I had a choice you know I'd leave too
All time low

And I will miss you everytime that I breathe
And I will miss you every town that I leave
And I will miss you every shoreline we lose
