

Medicine

Iko

The showroom, the floodlights, the car park and me
The mix-tape that you made is stuck on repeat
It's always, it's always, it's always a breeze
I think I, I think I am in over my head

Why do you let me down?

The broken, the zombies, the chemist can see
That nothing and nowhere comes easy to me
And if you ever get out of this
You'll notice, you'll notice, you'll notice you can't hear me

Why do you let me down?
(because you told me I was the one)