

Remember Me

Iko

You said go away, conform
Do people always argue like they do
Down here over nothing in particular
Can we have a little silence
Can we have a little number for the year
Everyone has got somebody they adore

And I will lie awake, forever
Watch for your return in pretty [?]
And I will lie awake, remember me
When I wish upon the star that you are from
The star that you are from

Can I whisper you a secret
Tell you what is written on my heart
It is your name and all the things you are

And I will lie awake, forever
Watch for your return in pretty [?]
And I will lie awake, remember me
When I wish upon the star that you are from
The star that you are from
