Touch the sky

You appeared in my dream last night I couldn't recognize you because you looked older I was scared, it seemed like this would become my reality Before I left, I promised you as I held you I said I would build a house and wait for you You should've just aged but why did you age so beautifully?
Not making me able to recognize you, my mischievous mom
I missed you like crazy but couldn't see yo, my love I can go anywhere and boldly say, you are my pride Your smile in the photo is the knife that cuts through the sadness You became my dream, now what time do you wanna come? Tell me I'll pick you up, my earnest person
I hope my remaining footsteps
Will come to me tonight
At the end of this moment of running
No limit gon touch the sky
(No limit gon touch the sky)
For me, who has been dreaming Tonight, throw it away At the end of this moment of running
No limit gon touch the sky
No limit gon touch the sky
Touch the sky, touch the sky,
touch the sky
Giving up my youth, I ran barefoot for three years After saying a heartless goodbye to my family and friends Living each day, always nervous about tomorrow I told them to trust me, that we will succeed for sure With the weight of not just my life but five others on my shoulders, looking for chances I had no choice but to throw away the pressure and failures Now I want to see the light so I put my future on the line
The gods asked me if I wasn't gonna regret this But I answer without hesitating, why would I regret?

What's left behind this stage is either success or failure I put my everything on the line and there is no next time My determination has no choice but to be different from others
Even if this is my last time
I will sing without regrets,
I will sing, sing
Yeah, We Flyin' tonight
Flyin' tonight Flyin' tonight
Flyin'
I hope my remaining footsteps
(No limit gon touch the sky)
Tonight, throw it away
At the end of this moment of running
Touch the sky, touch the sky,
In the passing time
The memories become songs
In this moment, everyone touch the sky
