

Madness

III Bill

I hope to God it'll torture you to madness

Hit em

(Can I play with madness)

Mental health conditions

Got me preforming self-incisions (Slice!)

Committing murders on stealth missions (Manson)

For those with wealth ambition

Who embellish in Satanism

Sacrificing pigeons on pentacles for hellish religions

The modern me practicing sodomy, mojo lobotomy like pottery

You're odd to me, opposite of what's hot to me

I got a vast array of disorders

You're passed away when slayed and slaughtered

The Master, obey, what I display is morbid

Specific symptoms: terrific pimpin'

Scientifically horrific hieroglyphic lyric prolific, limpin'

Sometimes I feel like

Somebody's watchin' me, brainwashin' me harshly

Paranoia like you scared to fly

My name is Inigo Montoya, you killed my father, prepare to die

Numerous factors, humorous actors

Your uterus gets fractured, cerebrum with a tumor on its axis

This is absolute madness

All right now, let's assume that there is a method to his madness

Can I play with madness

Vampires, zombies and werewolves

Only scare fools, the real world is scarier

Monsters are metaphors for real evil

Murderers and cannibals, some real people

Who sold my soul to demons, an evil overachiever

Needed bloodbaths to laugh since ten years old

Started skinnin' neighborhood cats to cleanse my soul

Cut open my neighbor's golden retrievers, go in with the clever

Gaggin' from the stench of it's body decomposing in ether

That's when I knew this was for me, the power of God

Ultimate control over your life or death is mine!

Zoomin' impulse off of results of torturing folks

Unfortunate souls, that chose wrong at the fork in the road

Final destination is set, feel the vibration's of death

In ya' chest every time you take a breath

Staring in to eyes of horror [?] anguish

And laugh [?] for ransom then send maggots

Clears the path to madness

This is madness

Of course writers, especially poets, are particularly prone to madness

Can I play with madness

Didn't get you're minimum deadly allowance of murder, madness and mayhem?
