

You Were Right

Illenium

Have you ever felt like nothin'?
Heart beats, but the blood's not rushin'
I tell myself that everything is fine
But deep inside, I know that it's just a lie

Lights out on an open road
Cold callin' on a broken phone
Thought I wouldn't even notice you're gone
But I was so wrong

Turns out that I need you
I thought it couldn't be true
But I don't think I'll get through
Another night (Another night)
To wake up in an empty bed
Echoes of the words you said
That you would never leave my head
And you were right
Yeah, you were right

You were right
Yeah, you were right
Said you'd never leave my head
And you were right
You were right, you were right

Have you ever felt like runnin'?
Look down and your feet aren't budgin'
'Cause every time I try to get to you
I think I went for miles and I didn't even move

Life now is an uphill road
Cold callin', but there's no one home
Thought I wouldn't even notice you're gone
But I was so wrong

Turns out that I need you
I thought it couldn't be true
But I don't think I'll get through
Another night (Another night)
To wake up in an empty bed
Echoes of the words you said
That you would never leave my head
And you were right

You were everything I need
The only air I'd ever breathe
The only light that I could see
Yeah, you were right, you were right
'Cause now I'm only seein' red
I remember when you said
That you would never leave my head
Well, you were right, you were right

Turns out that I need you
I thought it couldn't be true
But I don't think I'll get through

Another night
To wake up in an empty bed
Echoes of the words you said
That you would never leave my head
And you were right
Turns out that I need you (Turns out that I need you)
I thought it couldn't be true (I thought it couldn't be true)
But I don't think I'll get through (But I don't think I'll get through)
Another night (Another night, oh, another night)
To wake up in an empty bed (Wake up in an empty bed)
Echoes of the words you said (Echoes of the words you said)
That you would never leave my head (You would never leave my head)
And you were right
You were right, you were right
