

Destined Path

ILLUMISHADE

I know that life is
Sometimes alone
But I

Must find a way to
Make it My own
So I

Shut my eyes and see
You're just a memory
And all I need is to be
What I am

I carry all our hope
Into a stormy sky
And all I need is to be
What I am

This is my easiest decision to make
But it's so painful I'm on fire
I look ahead at all the risk I will take
And I can taste it in the air

I've wrapped myself in
All that my life's been
Weaving in my soul
The price of my call
I'll face it all and swallow

The loss of my first love
The broken heart's I've caused
The fear of not quite knowing
Where it leads

But I'll commit to feeling
And to this daring path
I know these wings will show me
Where it leads

This is my easiest decision to make
But it's so painful I'm on fire
I look ahead at all the risk I will take
And I can taste it in the air

Sweep my feet away
Sweep my feet away
Sweep my feet away

This is my easiest decision to make
But it's so painful I'm on fire

My lonely hearts leaves only hope in it's wake
Oh, can't you taste it in the air?

And though it hurts to think
I won't be back again
I will forever chase my Destined Path
