

Hymn

ILLUMISHADE

Eternal trust
As the raging tide returns
Is a promise that remains within our hearts
As time repeats
Somber forces come to rise
We must keep what lingers deep within our core
Bound by our hope
United against the unknown
The truth begins to soar
As we intertwine to shield our home

And as we stand against the shore
The waves align with our hearts to pull us through
The storms unleash a fury call
And the horizon awaits to learn what we are

The chosen ones who fight the fall
Drawn in by one
Chaos climbs from down below
Awakening our strength from deep inside
Carried away
By your beauty, your delight
We resist a careful hand forever more
Watch as it grows
Summoned ascent from beyond
Will you catch the fire's glow
Shielding our heart and our home

And as we stand against the shore
The waves align with our hearts to pull us through
The storms unleash a fury call
And the horizon awaits to learn what we are

The chosen ones who fight the fall
Will you escape my inner void?
Will you forgive yourself?
I will return in time and you'll prevail
When all your memories unfold

And as we stand against the shore
The waves align with our hearts to pull us through
The storms unleash a fury call
And the horizon awaits to learn what we are

A cast of light to break the fall we are what looms beneath us all
