

Feel Something

Illy

Freed by the feeling, losing all control
Across star systems, bottomless soul
Its rock and roll baby it never gets old
And the jumps only as far as how tight your holding on
So let it breathe let it build
Future is meaningless, realitys killed
Take the breaks off, let the thoughts spill
Technicoloured words, luminescent fills
And this feels like heaven to me
And the beats like the prettiest sound tyouve ever seen
Define clarity, redefine gravity
Kiss the sky, flirt with insanity
Just some thoughts for the mind
Conceptualize brain patterns in a rhyme
Ha, and were doing just fine
Living life one deep breath at a time
Cause I'm just trying to make you feel something
Each thought like a jolt, each sense gone numb
We feel nothing and everything at once
Synchronized madness, the children of the sun
Setting fire to their temples, whatever may come
You can't make sense of the chaos
So close to meaning, still such a way off
Rise and decline
Blinded by truth, our eyes tell us lies
Sleep beneath hypercoloured skies
Brain stems legs, reality would amputate
The greatest thoughts here captivate
Then crystallize, then evaporate
Its all in how you let it go
Awake in the dream, we ebb with the flow
So stay tuned for the next episode
Lets find how deep this rabbit hole goes
Cause I'm just trying to make you feel something
Any grasp of reality left behind
Embrace life in precious time we given
See the starlight shine in the distance
The path of least resistance, leave a sense
Of content in the minute, comfort in here and now
Build it up just to tear it down
Forge bonds that never were
But till daybreak saboteurs arrive to fray shattered nerves
Let the warmth rush over me, course through my veins
Thoughts caught in webs we create
You won't remember the date
But the sensation lasts after memories fade
No regret, no remorse
Overwhelmed without cause, but you gotta let it
Run its course
Feels like an immovable object struck with unstoppable force
But its just trying to make you feel something
