

Stubborn

Illy

You don't listen
That's what everybody tell me, right
While I fumble
Through my pocket for a light
Like I don't know
These cigarettes will probably kill me
Well, take a bow, you're all so smart
But you're probably right

And we sleep all day
And when we go out, we go all night
'Cause we only came
For a good time, not a long time
And the consequence, a blind eye to it
Even when it ends in ruin
'Cause we made our mind, wrong or right
We'll be alright, we'll be alright
And we say

Way too stubborn to admit
We're just in it for the kicks
We're so over fitting in
But whatever
I'm no saint and
You're no angel, nah
Hard to knock it, knock on wood
We're too bad for our own good

Hard to knock it, knock on wood
We're too bad for our own good

And so we make our way
Into the night, young hearts together
I wake up next
To a pretty stranger in my bed, yeah
I'm making moments while this last
'Cause it don't last forever
Hiding from the world
Till we're sober again

And we sleep all day
And when we go out, we go all night
'Cause we only came
For a good time, not a long time
And the consequence, a blind eye to it
Even when it ends in ruin
'Cause we made our mind, wrong or right
We'll be alright, we'll be alright
And we say

Way too stubborn to admit
We're just in it for the kicks
We're so over fitting in
But whatever
I'm no saint and
You're no angel, nah
Hard to knock it, knock on wood

We're too bad for our own good

We're too bad for our own good
But whatever
Hard to knock it, knock on wood
We're too bad for our own good

We sleep all day and then we go out
Sleep all day and then we go out
And we sleep all day and then we go out
We sleep all day and then we go out
And we sleep all day
And when we go out, we go all night, yeah yeah (yeah)
Hard to knock it knock on wood
We're too bad for our own good

We're too bad for our own good
But whatever
(But whatever, ooh yeah yeah)
Hard to knock it, knock on wood
We're too bad for our own good
