

Eyes Straight Ahead

Ilse DeLange

Save your words, don't give them up
All of them are not enough
To make them see or understand
Sometimes the truth
Is a line, you walk a while
Just find you're alone
Cause everybody thinks they know
Everything about it
Sticks and stones again and again
But everybody has to know
In the end the truth will show
Try to stay strong, until then
Keep your head up and eyes straight ahead
No winners here in this game
Of pushing guilt and passing blame
So stand aside and let it go
A better sky, is on its way
So please just try to sit and wait
I know it's hard
Cause everybody thinks they know
Everything about it
Sticks and stones again and again
But everybody has to know
In the end the truth will show
Try to stay strong, until then
Keep your head up and eyes straight ahead
Ahead of us is there is something we're needing to find
Up ahead of us
Cause everybody thinks they know
Everything about it
Cause everybody thinks they know
Everything about it
Sticks and stones again and again
But everybody has to know
In the end the truth will show
Try to stay strong, until then
Keep your head up and eyes straight ahead
