

Time Will Have To Wait

Ilse DeLange

I hold your hand, I feel your fear
I've been so close but never near
But now that we face the unknown
You say it's harder for me
I think it's harder for you

Now there are no more plans to make
It's not important it can wait
Just let me take care of you
You say it's harder for me
I think it's harder for you

Time will just have to wait
Time will just have to wait
In a heart lies all that matters
It won't dry up with these tears
And these moments will run deeper
Than the rushing of the years
Time will just have to wait

This goodbye is so loud
'Cause we don't when, where or how
Until then I carry us proudly

You say it's harder for me, I think its harder for you

Time will just have to wait
Time will just have to wait
In a heart lies all that matters
It won't dry up with these tears
And these moments will run deeper
Than the rushing of the years
Time will just have to wait

Don't hide the pain in your eyes
Don't lose yourself protecting me
Don't be afraid of wait will be
I know it's harder for you
You thinks its harder for me

Time will just have to wait
Time will just have to wait
Time will just have to wait
Time will have to wait
Time will have to wait

Time will just have to wait
