

Reaching 4 A Star

Ima Robot

It all started out with me and her
But then the lines of our relationship got blurred
Then it was her and him, him being my best friend
After a break they came together
Pretended to be happy for the sake of fair weather
No need to rock the boat
So I jumped overboard to keep them afloat

Lookin' back I might as well have had the boat rockin'
After all, me and her did so much intimate talkin'
Her and I would go outside cuz we did like walkin'
But with time found out my thoughts, sad, started to darken
I was never caught jocking but neither was she
We had this special thing, cross the room
She would look at me
(She'd look at you, she'd look at you)
Uh-huh
(So what'd that make you feel?)
Well, she made me smile
Not just with looks, but with attitude and style
And after a while it occurred to me
But no - that would be foul
I entered a state called serious denial

Reaching 4 a star
I'm reaching 4 a star
And you disappear beneath the city lights

She was a really good person, in fact
She didn't deserve to be cheated nor stabbed in the back
She had so many wounds, stuff like thumb tacks in her skin
Didn't know about the knives in her back still stuck in
But oh well, what am I to do?
I keep thinking about me and you
Oh dear, I must adhear
To silence while he hits you from the rear
And it's not the first time nor the last
That I will have to forget the past
So I put it behind
You could never be mine

Reaching 4 a star
I'm reaching 4 a star
And you disappear beneath the city lights

You're reaching 4 a star
You're reaching 4 a star
And you disappear beneath the city lights

Reaching 4 a star, really far
Don't know where it goes
Reaching 4 a star, really far
I've been all alone

Reaching 4 a star, really far
Don't know where to go
Reaching 4 a star, really far

I've been all alone