

All Eyes

Imagine Dragons

Everything you say is just a lie
And now I'm leaving to the city
Where the people are awake
To chase a dream that isn't real
And we pose to be something that we're not
Just wanna change a lot and sign their name after the dot

Everything you see is just a century of anarchy
Among all my corresponding colors
That symbolize the things we can attest
A range we can assess we can attain
We are the intrigue
Entities to entice and entertain

All eyes, they're on you
Don't deny you've got to
This is a call, that's all you'll ever get from me
This is a call, that's all you'll ever get from me

Take my side
Take my side
Don't look back
Now I'm easy
And that's a fact
And you're on my mind
Ohh

Everything you say is just a lie
And now I'm leaving to the city
Where the people are awake
To chase a dream that isn't real
And we pose to be something that we're not
Just wanna change a lot and sign their name after the dot

All eyes, they're on you
Don't deny you've got to
This is a call that's all you'll ever get from me

Now will the Sun come up tonight?
Because you're eyes they burn so bright
I'm all you've got
When you say
That you want it all
You want it all

All eyes, they're on you
Don't deny you've got to
This is a call, that's all you'll ever get from me
This is a call, that's all you'll ever get from me

All eyes, they're on you
Don't deny you've got to
This is a call, that's all you'll ever get from me
This is a call, that's all you'll ever get from me
