

Fade

Imagine Dragons

Rise in the morning sun
We believe in the same ideals
But it's harder to leave
When we've come this far
And the end is near

Tell me what made you love
Just the way you do
It's the purest touch
And I wanted it too
But it seems this world
Won't let it be

And so will you write this down
When the siren sounds
You'll remember me
Cause this isn't meant to be
Turned into a memory
That stays until it fades
Away

Three hundred miles away
A different night
But the sky's the same
Nobody knows where you escape
That you are stranger

Show me love, I'm broke
I can't stand here on my own
If I'm going to live then I have to go
I'm danger

And so will you write this down
When the siren sounds
You'll remember me
Cause this isn't meant to be
Turned into a memory
That stays until it fades

And so will you write this down
When the siren sounds
You'll remember me
Cause this isn't meant to be
Turned into a memory
That stays until it fades

And so will you write this down
When the siren sounds
You'll remember me
Cause this isn't meant to be
Turned into a memory
That stays until it fades
Away
