

My Fault

Imagine Dragons

I took a walk on a Saturday night, fog in the air, just to make my mind
seem clear,
where do I go from here?
I see my breath pushing steam through the air,
shaking hands run through my hair,
my fears,
where do I go from here?

Is it my fault, is it my fault?
We've been missing each other,
We've been missing each other.
My fault, is it my fault?
We've been missing each other,
We've been missing each other.

Walking down to the waters edge, asking why I'm here instead
of home,
now I stand alone.
I stop to stare at the ocean side
I'm breathing in just to feel it's side with his,
like you were here with me.

Is it my fault, is it my fault?
We've been missing each other,
We've been missing each other.
My fault, is it my fault?
We've been missing each other,
We've been missing each other.

Oh, it's on the wall, it's loud,
it's in the brightest light,
it's when the world is moving.
Oh, it's in the faintest cry,
it's in the lovers eye,
it's when I need you most,
And dont you know,

Is it my fault, is it my fault?
We've been missing each other,
We've been missing each other.
My fault, is it my fault?
We've been missing each other,
We've been missing each other.

My fault, is it my fault?
We've been missing each other,
We've been missing each other.
My fault, is it my fault?
We've been missing each other,
We've been missing each other..
