Daggers

Imminence

When you stuck your daggers in me
You left me scarred for all to see
And you know I'm scared to bleed
Bleed on the pages where love comes in stages
And your words are like daggers in me
I hide it so no one can see
God only knows I've tried to be
Be on the same page where daggers are mistakes

Look into my tired eyes, tell me
Can you see my soul
Is there something left in me, or is it
Just an empty hole

I'm really trying to make it back to the start
I'm really looking for something that sets me apart

When you stuck your daggers in me
You left me scarred for all to see
And you know I'm scared to bleed
Bleed on the pages where love comes in stages
And your words are like daggers in me
I hide it so no one can see
God only knows I've tried to be
Be on the same page where daggers are mistakes

Look, I know I could have tried, to tell you
I'm a sorry state
Is there something I can say, or is it
Already to late

I'm really trying to make it back to the start
I'm really looking for something that sets me apart

When you stuck your daggers in me
You left me scarred for all to see
And you know I'm scared to bleed
Bleed on the pages where love comes in stages
And your words are like daggers in me
I hide it so no one can see
God only knows I've tried to be
Be on the same page where daggers are mistakes

You know I'm scared to bleed
Your words are like daggers
