

Diamonds

Imminence

I'm like a deer in the headlights
Running, running, running
Golden lights, golden eyes
Running out of time
Now I'm face down by the wayside
Not running anymore
Golden lights, empty eyes
Who's running now

I'm not spotless
I have my share of stripes
No one is flawless
But we're all diamonds

I will never win the fight for you
But I'll always save a light for you
Even if I'm not a part of you
I will spare a piece of my heart for you
Gonna try to make things right for you
It's really not an easy thing to do
I know you're scared to tell the truth
But it's ok 'cause that makes two

I'm like a deer in the headlights
Coming, coming, coming
Broken lights, broken bones
Never coming home
Now I'm running from a broken heart
And I'm looking for a place to start
Broken bones, broken dreams
Tearing me apart

I'm not spotless
I have my share of stripes
No one is flawless
But we're all diamonds

I will never win the fight for you
But I'll always save a light for you
Even if I'm not a part of you
I will spare a piece of my heart for you
Gonna try to make things right for you
It's really not an easy thing to do
I know you're scared to tell the truth
Well that's all right 'cause that makes two

Oh, I'm not spotless
I have my share of stripes
No one is flawless
But we're all diamonds

I'm not spotless
No, I'm not spotless
No one is flawless
But we're all diamonds

I will never win the fight for you

But I'll always save a light for you
Even if I'm not a part of you
I will spare a piece of my heart for you

I will never win the fight for you
But I'll always save a light for you
Even if I'm not a part of you
I will spare a piece of my heart for you
Gonna try to make things right for you
It's really not an easy thing to do
I know you're scared to tell the truth
But it's ok 'cause that makes two
