

Ghost

Imminence

There's a darkness in the distance
It's like the calm before the storm
Dark clouds stalk my every move
I can't see the light from above
Can't see the forest for the trees
I can't break free

This is my soul, my soul

Can you tell my ghost
That he doesn't belong here anymore

How can I raise these walls
When the ground beneath my feet is crumbling
Searching for the answers
In the darkness of my soul
Can't find the remedy
For the pain to let me go

This is my soul, my soul

Can you tell my ghost
That he doesn't belong here anymore
Find another host
'Cause this is my soul, my soul

This is my soul, my soul
This is my soul, my soul

I hear the devil speak in tongues
As water rises in my lungs
Tell me where's the remedy
For the pain to let me go

I can't break free

This is my soul, my soul
This is my soul, my soul

Can you tell my ghost
That he doesn't belong here anymore
Find another host
'Cause this is my soul, my soul

This is my soul, my soul
This is my soul, my soul
