

Echoes Of Despair

Immolation

The dawn of our collapse
Our system in decay
At the precipice of war
No longer can we last

We followed faithfully
Those who hold the keys
Lead us to the edge
Holding our breathes in fear
Fear empowers trust
Trust empowers greed
Greed breeds the corrupt
The corrupt will break the world

All around us the signs are there
Rip open your eyes and finally see
Times of peril, world in ruins
Secret motions, mass delusion
Like a storm coming at us from all directions
We can't find cover
We ignored the warnings and wrote them off
Now brace yourselves as your sacred pillars crumble

Clear the ash..clean the wounds
The enemy is now exposed

The echoes of despair... now resonate like an earthquake

Find the way... find the strength
Find the will... bring the storm to them

The weight of time is crushing down
The world must rise... to fight back
