

Into The Fog (Isolation)

Immortal Disfigurement

Into the fog, isolation
Into the fog, isolation
Forsaken melancholy calling to me

The top of the cliff is empty and desolate
Surrounded by nothing
But the thickened dark mist and echos of haunting solitude
An unforgiving pain that has never felt so cold
I no longer seek elucidation
The hollowness is deafening

Cataclysmic anguish
Relinquished, deserted vale before me
A figureless shadow, melancholy
The calmness from below is calling to me

A quiet taste of serenity
Do you see?
Do you finally see?
Forevermore, eternally

Into the fog, isolation

Cataclysmic anguish
Relinquished, deserted vale before me
A figureless shadow, melancholy
The calmness from below is calling to me

Find me in, in the light
I no longer have to wait in the night
Cliffhanger, cliffhanger, cliffhanger
Into the fog
Isolation

Into the fog, isolation
Into the fog, isolation
Forsaken melancholy calling to me

Find me in the light
I no longer have to wait in the night
Cliffhanger, into the fog, isolation
Forsaken melancholy calling to me
