

Gone Insane

Impellitteri

You hear the crazies with the talk of UFO's
You see the vision in the sky and want to know, I want to know
The light was beaming as it flew over the hill
The night was silent as the moon and stars stood still

I saw the light, now nothing seems the same
Every time I go outside it never leaves my brain
Look to the sky, will you come back today?
Everyone is wondering if I have gone insane

Hallucinations or a flashback in a dream?
I got a feeling nothing's ever like it seems, not what it seems
Imagination going wild and scaring me
My vindication or a haunting entity?

I saw the light, now nothing seems the same
Every time I go outside it never leaves my brain
Look to the sky, will you come back today?
Everyone is wondering if I have gone insane

I saw the light

I saw the light, now nothing seems the same
Every time I go outside it never leaves my brain
Look to the sky, will you come back today?
Everyone is wondering if I have gone insane
