

War Machine

Impellitteri

Arm yourself to the limit, brace yourself to the ground
Get ready for the ruthless raiders, striking when the sun goes down

I don't know why we all can't live in peace
Here comes the war machine

Rifle through the fragile village, burn the place to the ground Devastation, waste and pillage, till there's nothing left to be found

I don't know why we all can't live as one
The war machine is here

The war machine is here
No place to call home
We live our lives in fear
The war machine is here, and now there's no place to call home

The war machine is here
No place to call home
We live our lives in fear
The war machine is here

The war machine is here
No place to call home
We live our lives in fear
The war machine is here

I'm holding on to peace and love, when we can live as one
