

Here I stand
All alone, drowning in regret
I have myself to blame again
No words can never make amends
I am the damage
I am the loss
I am everything that breaks down
I am the reason
I am the cause
I am the wound you'll never close
These things I never wanted
Tearing through me
Destroying everything I've done
My rotten whispers speak to know one
Yet these walls will not fall down

Rift

It's breaking me down
And no one ever seems to see how much it really meant to me

Go away

It cut me deeper than we knew
And all the things we ever felt are buried underneath my guilt

Rift

It's expanding with time
And the storm I brought between us
Will burn us forever

Go away

I've lost everything inside
I have torn apart the threads that held my soul together one more time

All I've had
I've lost one by one
They fall apart
Again, my tortured mind cannot revive the dream I've thrown away this time
I almost lost myself
I've never been so alone
Your memory never fades
I don't know what I've become
But I am left with this

I've trapped myself
Inside believing
I would never lose my ground
I forced you out alone
My world fell apart the day you left
