I Still Remember

Imperia

The sparkle in your eye
The warmth on your skin
Your breath on my neck

The quivers within
The touch of your hand
The kindness in your smiles

All the things you made me feel
I still feel as it was yesterday

I remember clearly the day we met
The words that were spoken

All the things you made me feel
As if it was yesterday

Your kiss on my lips
Your body near to mine
The stroke of your touch
The feeling inside

The sound of your voice
The passion in your embrace
The beating of your heart

All the things you made me feel
I still feel as it was yesterday

I remember clearly the day we met
The words that were spoken

All the things you made me feel
As if it was yesterday

The promise of tomorrow
That we may never part
The magic of your touch and it's for all
These reasons that I love you

I still remember, I still remember

All the things you made me feel

As if it was yesterday
All the things you made me feel
As if it was yesterday
Because after all this time
I feel that way still
I still remember
