

Birthday Girl

Imperial Teen

She goes to school in Washington
A major in self-portraiture
Her poster in a record store
You meet her in a parking lot

Blue sequins for the birthday girl
A beauty in a bridal gown
Her weakness for piano parts
She falls in love with everything

And we should save ourselves
And we should save ourselves
And we should save ourselves
And we should save ourselves

A major in self-portraiture
You meet her in a parking lot

And we should save ourselves
And we should save ourselves
And we should save ourselves
And we should save ourselves
And we should save ourselves
And we should save ourselves
And we should save ourselves
And we should save ourselves
