Mask

In Grey

You left me for reasons I never did understand But now...

I can see the sun, comming back to me Even though she wears this mask This just might be my chance If not I'll be forever lost

I, I want you
And you, you want me
So let us come together, here and now
And please let me, wear you mask!

Put the sun in the sky Light up my heart And please let me Let me wear you mask
