In Hearts Wake

Watch the stars shine
through a telescope lost in time
the silver moon light carries me through the night
For years I've carved the coastline
Never knowing where I belong.
Drifting away, falling into the fray
Where did I go wrong?

What is your frequency?
Somebody save me,
I'm begging please don't shut me out.
I need you desperately.
Why can't you hear me?
Listen in before I drop out.

Hear the rainfall
in the lullaby of the tide
the lightning storm calls,
in the valleys of the great divide
This lonely heart has no home, where is the hope I can hold onto?
Sinking below, I continue to roam
Always in search of you.

What is your frequency?
Somebody save me,
I'm begging please don't shut me out.
I need you desperately.
Why can't you hear me?
Listen in before I drop out.

Someday I will find you.
Trust me I know we are all lost souls searching for connection.
Put the pain behind you.
Resurface, find purpose. Recognise the strength in your own reflection.

What is your frequency?
Somebody save me,
I'm begging please don't shut me out.
I need you desperately.
Why can't you hear me?
Listen in before I drop out.
