In Hearts Wake

Am I living or better off dead?
The same monologue on repeat in my head
Self-sabotage, defeat, and subversion
What is real? Call in the surgeon

I'm the only one that stands in my way
The story of terror still stuck on replay
I can't give up

Don't say you're not enough
Don't be so hard on yourself
They don't know what you've been through
You have to fall before you reach the top
From rock-bottom the only way is up
They don't know what you've been through

Everything I want is on the other side of fear
Stuck inside my head like this won't make it disappear
I'm not afraid to die anymore
I'm ready for the war

The devil whispers
You won't withstand the storm
But the devil doesn't know
I am the storm
I am re-born

I'm still stuck on replay
I can't give up
It's better to fight and fall
Than live without hope
It's better to fight and fall
Than live without hope

Don't say you're not enough
Don't be so hard on yourself
They don't know what you've been through
You have to fall before you reach the top
From rock-bottom the only way is up
They don't know what you've been through
I'm ready for the war
