

Alone with You

In Her Own Words

I was slurring all my words
Trying to keep it all together
Wishing that my best was better
Fix me
Something strong to dull my nerves
Wondering what you were thinking
And you're just so sure of yourself
So sure of yourself

So can you feel it now?
Cut off jeans and a pretty smile
There's something going on
And I just want them all to see
So come on, come on
I feel your hands, they're shaking cold
We got one chance to make this happen

I was slurring all my words
Trying to keep it all together
Wishing that my best was better
Fix me
Something strong to kill my nerves
Wondering what you were thinking
And you're just so sure of yourself
When I'm alone with you

Come on, come on
I know a place where we can be alone
Come on, come on
We gotta get our story straight
Cause my eyes are stuck on yours
And yours are staring back at mine
Come on, come on
Oh I can see it in your face
So don't close your eyes
We got one chance to make this happen

I was slurring all my words
Trying to keep it all together
Wishing that my best was better
Fix me
Something strong to kill my nerves
Wondering what you were thinking
And you're just so sure of yourself
When I'm alone with you

I'm slurring all my words, and you know
I'll try to kill my nerves with a drink in hand

It's no secret that I hide
Behind the quiet of your smile
The sun is coming up
And you'll be gone before it rises
But I'm just super nice
And I don't wanna say goodbye
No I don't wanna say it
If I do not have to

Let's make it easy for you

Now I'm slurring all my words
Trying to keep it all together
Wishing that my best was better
Fix me
Something strong to kill my nerves
Wondering what you were thinking
And you're just so sure of yourself
When I'm alone with you

When I'm alone with you
And you're just so sure of yourself
