

Alienation

In Legend

Now here I stand in front of a mirror
Cannot escape the gaze of my own figure
Checking out to hold my own - don't wanna give up
Revealing just as much as I'm willing to give

But when I try to smile all my spirits down
Like smashed into pieces of something I was close to
And lost in the state of confusion I surrender
The mirror fails to hide reality

Believe in you
Believe in your way
For only then you'll be proud of your name
Welcome life as who you are
You've got a heart to follow

You could step aside
Fight your fears with pride
Let your heart collide
With what your brain decides
Never shine a light on what could shine too bright.

What are you waiting for?
Take it on!

Don't let the world ignore what you can
Don't wait for the moment - there is none whoa
Come make them know your name.

Whoa! Kill me! Heal me!
Feel me when you suit your actions to your word!

What are you waiting for? Come on!
Don't let the world ignore your name!

Believe in you. If there's no trust
Conceive yourself if no one does.
Retrieve your soul if things combust
And burn your dreams to ash and dust.
Convert your faith into esteem
Tell me your name aloud and scream!

(Tell me your name! Loud and clear!)
Ooooh! Scream! (Come Scream with me)
